Ex-Senator From North Caroolina-Named by President as Judge Simonton's Successor.

Succeeded Vance in the Senate Presided in Supreme Court During Machen Trial.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, D. C., April 27,--President Roosevelt to-day nominated Justice Jeter C. Pritchard, of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, to be United States Circuit judge of the Fourth Circuit, in succession to the late Judge Charles H. Simonton. The Fourth Cir-cuit includes the States of Maryland, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia, and under the law the

and West Virginia, and under the law the appointee had to be selected from one of these States.

Although Jeter C. Pitchard is a citizen of North Carolina, he was born at Jonesboor, Tenn., July 12, 1877. After attending the common schools and Martin's Creek Agademy, he became a printer, and in 1874 went with the family to Bakersville, N. C., where he was for a year of two the foreman of the Bakersville Independent, and later a part owner of the paper.

He was an elector on the Garfield ticket in 1850; was elected to the Legislature in 1854, and again in 1856; was the Republican candidate for Lieutenant-Governor in 1853 and in 1850; re-entered the Legislature, and was the Republican nominee for the United States Senate in 1851. He read law for several years, and was admitted to the bar in 1854.

SUCCEDED VANCE.

He was a candidate for Congress in 1852, and was defeated. He was the head and front of the Republican party in 1864, when the Democrats lost control of the State, and was elected to the Senate the following year to serve the unexpired term of Senator Vance, who died while in office. In 1857 he was re-elected to the Senate, and last spring he was succeeded in the Senate by Senator Lee Oyerman, a Democrat. He was at once made assistance of the Senator of the Senate assistance. in the Senate by Senator Lee Oyerman, a Democrat. Ho was at once, made assistant division counsel of the Southers Rallway, and very soon thereafter President Roosevelt appointed him to a position on the bench of the Supreme-Court of the District of Columbia. He presided at the recent trial of Machen and associates, convicted of frauds in the Postomeo Department.

Judgo Pritchard has made an excellent value. He is a good lawyer, and a man

Judge Pritchard has made an excellent judge. He is a good lawyer, and a min of such fairness on the bench and off it, that his appointment is gratifying to Democrats and Republicans alike. Senator Simmons said to-night that he would do all in his power to have the nomination confirmed at once, and it is probable that the Senate will act to-morrow. The haste of the President in naming the successor to Judge Simonton was due to his desire to have the vacancy filled and the nomination confirmed before Congress adjourned.

The Fourth Circuit, over which Judge Pritchard will preside, is composed of the States of North and South Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

"PEEPING TOM" ROUTED.

Miscreant on a Stable Roof in West End Fired on.

Some young man, making a very informal call by the rear premises of a residence on Floyd Avenue, just beyond the city llimts, about 11 P. M. on Tuesday, left so hurriedly that he failed to carry his hat with him, and has not returned for it. In fact, he was seen crouched upon the roof of a stable in rear of the for it. In fact, he was seen crouched upon the roof of a stable in rear of the residence by a gentleman who had been visiting at the residence, and when the roof dweller refused to state his name and his business there at that hour, the gentleman fired his revolver at him. The man on the roof, who could be distinguished in the dim light, was a young white man. When the pistel shot was fired in dropped down from his perch, a distance of about twelve feet, and ran through the lot and escaped. In his leap and flight he left his hat behind him, and falled to return for it. The hat is a new black derby, purchased of a well known hatter.

The discovery of the intruder naturally created some alarm among the ladies of the household, who supposed he was a burgiar. As the roof of the stable is on a level with the upper windows of an occupied room at the rear of the house, it is supposed that the intruder was a "Peeping Tom," who had boldly sought that point of vantage. The despicable young man is said to have been well dressed. He is also something of a sprinter, as attested by the record he made in running away. He is very lucky to have escaped a bullet under his vest.

MR. BROKAW WILL NAVIGATE THE AIR

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, April 27.—Aerial navigation may succeed yachting, golf and aution obliling as a sport for wealthy men of luxurious tastes, and the day may not be far off when one may be able to witness races in the skies, Private advices received here from Paris have conveyed the interesting information that W. Gould Brokaw, of this city, had placed an order with M. Santos Dumont for the construction of an elaborate flying machine for Mr. Brokaw's personal use.

According to this intelligence, the French aeronaut has already made his plans for the vehicle after his newest models and will soon come to this country for the purpose of beginning the actual work of building it on Mr. Brokaw's Long Island estate at Great Neck, where a stable-shed will be built for its accommodation.

Hitherto Mr. Brokaw's athletic diversions have been largely confined to yachting and automobiling, but of late he has become interested in the possibillties of the flying machine for sporting purposes, and several months ago he and M. Santos Dumont spent some time together at Ormond Beach, Fla., where, it is said, the project was discussed in detail.

However, Mr. Brokaw has up 66 this
